This image has been created on the basis of any relations indicated amongst 1230 international organizations associated explicitly with "peace". The organization names are positioned around the circumference (and may be viewed on the accompanying CD). The links between them (whether formal relationships, membership, or otherwise) are represented by arcs across the circle of 1230 organizations. Each of these arcs is continued beyond that circumference to indicate the feedback relationship between each pair of organizations as a circle. The many such circles create a pattern which provides an integrative overview of the world of organizations explicitly concerned with peace in some way.
