Some positive and negative trends: 1985-2000

The graphs in Figures 4.2.2 (a) and (b) depict the numbers of international organizations concerned with specific issues. Since the number of organizations is growing, the tendency of most curves is upwards. Some selected significant trends in organizational concerns are shown here. These graphs are reprinted from the previous edition (Ed 39, 2002-2003).
