One doesn't discover new lands without consenting to lose sight of the shore for a very long time. (André Gide).

A man of genius makes no mistakes. His errors are volitional and are the portals of discovery. (Joyce).

In completing one discovery we never fail to get an imperfect knowledge of others of which we could have no idea before, so that we cannot solve one doubt without creating several new ones. (Priestly).

When you steal from one author, it's plagiarism; if you steal from many, it's research. (Mizner).
