Growth in participation in conventional international organizations by continent: 1956-2000

These figures show participation in conventional international organizations (types A, B, C and D) by continent over the past quarter century. Separate columns are given for intergovernmental organizations (IGOs) and international nongovernmental organizations (NGOs). Note the different scales. Fitted curves are exponential. For information on types of organization, see Appendix "Types of organization". These figures are reprinted from previous edition (Ed 40, 2003-2004).
