Growth in participation in conventional international organizations: 1984-2004

These figures show country participation in "conventional international organizations" (types A, B, C and D) by continent every fourth year during the period 1984-2004. Intergovernmental organizations (IGOs) and international nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) are distinguished. Note the different scale from Figure 2.2.2 (b). For information on types of organization, see Appendix "Types of organization".
