Growth in participation in conventional international organizations: 1964-1984

These figures show country participation in "conventional international organizations" (types A, B, C and D) by continent every fourth year during the period 1964-1984. Intergovernmental organizations (IGOs) and international nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) are distinguished. Note the different scale from Figure 2.2.2. (c). For information on types of organization, see Appendix "Types of organization".
